

“THE SHABBOS ANGELS ARE PEEKING THROUGH MY WINDOW”

We know that angels don't just hover above, they mingle with us and we get to create them all the time through our good deeds. Have your little human angels- the children in your school help you with this table.

On these windows...their fingerprints are welcome!

ALL TABLES BY BROCHA SAPOCHKINSKY & NOMI GREENWALD

HOW TO:

We used real windows that someone was getting rid of. In place of windows you could use picture frames. The tea lights are set on picture frames. The pictures you put in the frames can be drawn by the kids, or you can photograph them doing different mitzvot, or preparations for Shabbat and enlarge them. The tzedaka boxes in this ensemble are decorated with foam. Something the kids would love to do. The flower vases are bottles that are painted...another activity for the children.
